Content Management Guide

Your step-by-step reference for updating your website content.

Getting Started

Logging In

Your content management system (CMS) is where you edit everything on qolcoaching.com. To access it:

1. Go to your studio URL: https://qolc-coaching.sanity.studio/
2. Log in with the account you were invited with (Google, GitHub, or email/password).
3. You'll see the main editing screen with all your content organized in the left sidebar.

The Two Tabs

At the top of your studio you'll see two tabs:

- Edit Content — Your main workspace. Browse and edit all content here. This is where you'll spend most of your time.
- Live Preview — See your actual website with changes updating as you type. Click on any element in the preview to jump directly to that field in the editor.

Drafts vs. Published

Every change you make is saved as a draft automatically. Drafts are NOT visible on the live website — only you can see them in the studio.

To make changes live, click the Publish button at the bottom right of the editor. Changes will appear on qolcoaching.com within about a minute.

You'll see an indicator next to content that has unpublished changes. This is your reminder that you have a draft waiting.

> 💡 Don't worry about breaking anything. Your drafts don't affect the live site until you hit Publish. Edit until it looks right, then publish.

Working with Images

To add or change an image:

1. Click on the image field.
2. Click "Upload" to select a file from your computer, or drag and drop.
3. Set a hotspot by clicking on the image and dragging the circle to the most important part. This ensures the image crops well on all screen sizes.

- Use JPG or PNG format.
- Keep file sizes under 2MB for best performance.
- Always set the hotspot on photos of people — put it on the face.
- The system automatically optimizes images for fast loading.

Publishing Your Changes

1. Make your edits.
2. Use Live Preview if you want to see how things look.
3. Click "Publish" at the bottom right.
4. Wait about a minute, then check the live site. If changes don't show, do a hard refresh (Ctrl+Shift+R on PC, Cmd+Shift+R on Mac).

Your Content

Everything below mirrors exactly what you see in the left sidebar of your studio. All sections below are part of your single Home Page — your entire website is a one-page design with scrollable sections.

Navigation

Controls the sticky nav bar and mobile menu at the top of the page. Visitors use this to jump to sections on the page.

Field	What it does
Nav Logo Icon	Small icon shown in the sticky navigation bar as visitors scroll. Set the hotspot.
Mobile Menu Logo	Larger logo displayed when the mobile slide-out menu is opened.
Navigation Links	The anchor links in the nav bar. Each has a Label (what visitors see) and an Anchor ID (the section it scrolls to). Anchor IDs are locked — do not change them.

⚠️ Navigation link Anchor IDs are read-only and locked to match sections in the code. Only edit the Label (the visible text) — never the Anchor ID.

Hero

The full-width banner section at the very top of your website — the first thing visitors see. It includes the background image, your headline, and the main booking button.

Field	What it does
Background Image	Full-width calming background photo. Set the hotspot so it crops well on all screen sizes.
Headline	Your main headline. Keep it between 10–60 characters.
Subheadline	The supporting line beneath the headline. Keep it between 20–100 characters.
Credentials Line	Your name and credentials displayed below the subheadline (e.g., "Elizabeth Mann, MSPAS, MPH, PA-C"). Keep it between 5–60 characters.
CTA Button Text	The text on the main booking button. Keep it between 2–35 characters.
CTA Booking Link	The URL your booking button links to — your Acuity scheduling page.

This is the most important section on your site. Keep the headline clear and focused. Visitors decide in seconds whether to stay.

Introduction

The section below the hero that draws visitors in with an empathetic message and resonant questions. It establishes who you serve and why they've come to the right place.

Field	What it does
Heading	The section heading. Keep it between 5–50 characters.
Subheading	A punchy, larger-format description. Keep it between 60–250 characters — this is displayed larger than normal body text, so keep it tight.
Questions	A list of questions that resonate with your target audience (e.g., "Do you spend so much time on others that your own self-care is lacking?"). Each question should be 40–200 characters. Maximum 4 questions.
Inclusivity Statement	A short one-line statement that signals your practice is welcoming to everyone. Keep it between 10–80 characters.

⚠️ Maximum 4 questions. More than 4 can feel overwhelming to visitors. Choose the ones that resonate most with who you serve.

Coaching Services & Booking

The section displaying your coaching packages with pricing and booking links. Visitors can see what you offer and book directly from here.

Field	What it does
Section Heading	The heading for this section. Keep it between 5–50 characters.
Subheading	A single sentence describing this section. Keep it between 30–150 characters.
Section Image	A supporting photo displayed alongside the packages. Set the hotspot.

Coaching Packages

Each package is a card displayed to visitors. Each package has the following fields:

Field	What it does
Package Title	The name of the package (e.g., "Initial Coaching Consultation"). Keep it between 10–50 characters.
Price	The price shown on the card (e.g., "$300" or "$825"). Keep it under 10 characters.
Features	The checkmark bullet points describing what's included. Each bullet is 10–90 characters. Maximum 7 bullets per package.
Button Text	The text on the booking button (e.g., "Schedule a Consultation"). Keep it between 5–35 characters.
Button Link	The Acuity scheduling URL for this specific package.

> 💡 To add a new package, click the "+" button in the Coaching Packages list. To reorder packages, drag them by the handle on the left. To remove one, click the three-dot menu on the package.

Biofield Tuning

The section explaining your Biofield Tuning services, including embedded YouTube videos and session packages. This section lets visitors learn about the practice and book sessions.

Field	What it does
Section Heading	The main heading for this section. Keep it between 5–40 characters.
Body Paragraphs	Explanatory paragraphs about Biofield Tuning. Each paragraph should be 80–300 characters. Maximum 3 paragraphs.
YouTube Video URLs	Embedded YouTube videos shown in this section. Each has a Title (5–60 characters, shown as a tab label) and a

Field	What it does
	YouTube URL. Add videos that introduce or explain Biofield Tuning.
Session Heading	The heading for the session details area. Keep it between 5–40 characters.
Session Subheading	Your personal context paragraph about how Biofield Tuning has helped you. Keep it between 80–350 characters.
Session Bullet Points	Key details about what a session involves (e.g., "45–60 minute private sessions"). Each bullet is 10–80 characters. Maximum 6 bullets.

Biofield Tuning Packages

Similar to coaching packages — each is a bookable card with its own price and link:

Field	What it does
Package Title	The name of the Biofield Tuning package. Keep it between 5–40 characters.
Price	The session price (e.g., "$150"). Keep it under 10 characters.
Button Text	The text on the booking button. Keep it between 5–35 characters.
Button Link	The Acuity scheduling URL for this specific Biofield Tuning session.

⚠️ YouTube video titles are used as tab labels on the page. If a title is too long (over 60 characters), it will be cut off or break the layout. Keep titles short and descriptive.

About Elizabeth

Your personal bio section — who you are, your background, and your credentials. This is where visitors connect with you as a person and practitioner.

Field	What it does
Heading	The section heading (e.g., "Guided by Elizabeth"). Keep it between 5–40 characters.
Headshot Photo	Your professional photo. Set the hotspot on your face. This field is optional — the design accommodates adding it later.
Bio Paragraphs	Your biographical text. Each paragraph should be 60–400 characters. Maximum 4 paragraphs. Lead with your most human and relatable story.
Pertinent Credentials	A list of your credentials with associated years/date ranges. Each credential is 5–60 characters (e.g., "Certified Physician Assistant, NCCPA"). Each year/range is 4–20 characters (e.g., "2008–present"). Maximum 8 credentials.

💡 Keep bio paragraphs focused. Each one should carry a single idea — your clinical background, your personal recovery story, your approach to coaching. Short paragraphs are easier to read on screens.

FAQ

Frequently asked questions displayed in an expandable accordion. Visitors click each question to reveal the answer.

Field	What it does
Section Heading	The heading above the FAQ list. Keep it between 5–40 characters.
FAQ Items	Each item has a Question (15–100 characters) and an Answer (20–400 characters). Add, remove, and reorder as needed.

- To add a new FAQ item: click the "+" button in the FAQ Items list.
- To reorder: drag items by the handle on the left.
- To delete: click the three-dot menu on the item and select Delete.

⚠ Maximum 12 FAQ items recommended. More than 12 can overwhelm visitors. Trim to only the questions you get most often.

Contact Form

The contact section at the bottom of your page. Visitors use this to reach out with questions before booking.

Field	What it does
Heading	The heading above the contact form. Keep it between 5–40 characters.
Description Paragraphs	The text above the form. The first paragraph will be displayed in bold — use it for your most important message. Each paragraph is 40–200 characters. Maximum 3 paragraphs.
Submit Button Text	The text on the form submission button (e.g., "Send Message"). Keep it between 2–25 characters.

💡 The first description paragraph displays in bold. Use it to set expectations — something like "I personally read every message and respond within 48 hours."

Footer

The bottom of every page. Displays your logo, tagline, location, and any legal disclaimers.

Field	What it does
Footer Logo	Your logo as it appears in the footer. Set the hotspot.
Tagline	A short brand line displayed beneath the logo (e.g., "Woman Veteran owned and operated business").
Location	Your practice location or general service area.
Disclaimer	Any legal or service disclaimer you want to display in the footer.

Form Submissions

When visitors submit the contact form on your website, their messages are stored here. These are read-only — you can view them in the studio, but you cannot edit them.

Submissions are sorted by most recent first. Your primary notification will come through email — the studio view is a backup reference.

If you miss an email notification, you can always find all contact form submissions here in the studio. They are never deleted automatically.

Character Limits Quick Reference

Your website is built with specific character limits to protect the layout on all screen sizes. The CMS will warn you (yellow) when you're getting close and show an error (red) if you go over. Here's a summary:

Quick Tips

- Always publish when you're done. Drafts don't show on the live site.
- Set hotspots on all images. Especially your headshot — put the hotspot on your face.
- Keep text concise. Your website is built to connect with visitors and move them toward booking. Short, clear messaging works best.
- Don't leave fields empty. Blank fields can create awkward gaps on the site.
- Changes take about a minute. After publishing, give it a moment. If changes don't show, try a hard refresh (Ctrl+Shift+R on PC, Cmd+Shift+R on Mac).
- The CMS warns you before errors. Yellow warnings mean you're approaching a limit. Red errors mean you've gone over and the layout may break.
- Reorder list items by dragging. Packages, FAQ items, credentials, and bullets can all be reordered by dragging the handle on the left.
- You can't break the live site from drafts. Nothing changes on qolcoaching.com until you click Publish.
